Welcome from the ISA President

T.V. Paul

James McGill Professor of International Relations at McGill University

It is with tremendous pleasure and pride that I welcome you to the 58th Annual Convention of the International Studies Association (ISA) in Baltimore. We achieved several milestones this year. Our total membership has increased to almost 7000, spreading around 113 countries making ISA the largest world association in our field. We received an extraordinary number of submissions (over 5300 proposals, comprised of more than 8000 individuals), showing the increasing interest globally in ISA conventions.

The convention theme: “Understanding Change in World Politics,” deals with different manifestations, actors, markers, sources, and implications of change in the international sphere. The papers, panels, roundtables all show the diversity and intellectual depth of the IR field globally, and reflect our efforts to increase participation by female scholars and attendees from the Global South. The 234 presidential and general theme panels all represent the rich ideas out there on change and the growing interest in this subject area. Some 3370 proposals were selected forcing us to reject many panels and papers. J. Andrew Grant as Program Chair performed an excellent job in building the program and making the tough selection process. In this the ISA HQ ably helped him. The program chairs of sections and caucuses also did a great job in completing this task.

The past year has been full of challenges and opportunities to build an inclusive ISA. The Governing Council (GC) in Atlanta approved the setting up of a presidential task force on the Global South in order to examine what we can do to improve participation of scholars from these regions, which is very low in all areas- conferences, journal submission and acceptance rates, and membership in governing bodies. The task force will begin its work immediately after ISA Baltimore and is expected to submit its report in the Fall for consideration by the Governing Council at the 2018 San Francisco meeting. In addition, the GC also approved the setting up of regional thematic sections, which are expected to help increase participation of scholars in ISA from underrepresented regions. The first such section on South Asia has started working and it shows the value of regional sections for ISA.

The year was one of challenges, especially for academic freedom of scholars in some countries. We produced three direct statements on the violations of academic freedom in Turkey while co-sponsoring a joint statement. We also publicly condemned the arrest and detention of Canadian-Iranian scholar Homa Hoodfar.

The Baltimore convention is the second that the new headquarters at the University of Connecticut helped organize. I thank the able work of Mark Boyer, Melissa Ballard, Kristy Belton, Kerry Crawford, Liz Fausett-Fuhrman, Jennifer Fontanella, Giuliana Franchetti, Andrea Gerlak, Donalyn Maneggia, Kristin Marley, Adelina Mkami, Will Percival, Lembe Tiky, Alexandra Walker, and Jeanne White. We thank in particular Andrea Gerlak who moved to an academic position after several years of able service to ISA, especially as a key organizer of annual conventions. ISA is also what it is due to the dedicated work of its sections, regions, caucuses, journal editors, and countless volunteers as committee members, reviewers, and conference organizers.

I was honored to make keynote addresses at the conferences organized by the ISA-Asia-Pacific Region (Hong Kong, June 2016); and in the Fall, ISA-West (Pasadena); ISA-South (Shepherdstown); ISA-Midwest (St. Louis); and ISAC-ISSS (at Notre Dame University). I found these smaller conferences extremely valuable venues for our younger scholars in particular.

In closing I hope my successors will continue and build up ISA’s global footprint more effectively, by attracting and collaborating with scholars from all over the world, especially the Global South countries. In a rapidly changing world, our discipline has much to offer and we need to move away from the parochialism and Western-centrism that unfortunately afflict our discipline. A truly global IR discipline will help global order and peace, which is in the interest of all, West and East, North and South.
Dear Friends,

Sara, Raynold, and I would like to welcome you to Baltimore and the 58th Annual Convention of the International Studies Association. It has been a great honor to work with you and craft the 2017 Convention Program, which features more than 5,600 individual participants and approximately 1,300 panels.

The 2017 Convention Theme, “Understanding Change in World Politics” sought to attract a diversity of theoretical approaches, methodologies, and ideas as well as panels that reflect the diversity of ISA’s scholars. These goals underpin the 58 Presidential Panels and are evident throughout the Program.

We are extremely thankful for the vision and advice provided by T.V. Paul, ISA President. He went well beyond the call of duty and invested countless hours of work into all facets of the Program including the Sapphire Series panels.

Putting together a scholarly Program of this magnitude requires a great deal of time and patience. To that end, we are grateful to those ISA members who were on the nearly 2,000-person initial wait-list for their patience and understanding while waiting for vacancies on the Program.

We would also like to thank the Section Program Chairs for incorporating diversity considerations as part of their tireless efforts to construct panels and fill vacancies owing to withdrawals from the Program. Since much of their work occurs behind the scenes, we encourage you to thank them personally: Mary Jane C. Parmentier (ALIAS), Andrei V. Korobkov (CISS), Robert Frederic Trager (DPLST), Marcus Holmes (DPLST), Jérémie Cornut (DPLST), Cornelia B. Navari (ENGSS), Daniel Naujoks (ENMISA), Ozgur Ozdamar (ENMISA), Fariborz Zelli (ESS), Brian Lai (FPA), Laura J. Shepherd (FTGS), Matt Davies (GDS), Owain D. Williams (GHS), Benjamin De Carvalho (HIST), Clair Apodaca (HRS), Courtney Hillebrecht (HRS), Julian J. Richards (ISS), Damien T. Van Puyvelde (ISS), Stephen Marrin (ISS), Amelia H. Arsenault (ICOMM), Laura Brunell (IEDUC), Amy E. Eckert (IETHICS), Jennifer Davis (ILAW), Robert Kissack (IO), Kathryn C. Lavelle (IPE), David M. McCourt (IPS), Charles Eugene Gholz (ISSS), Jason Enia (JSS), Andrea Gerlak (JSS), Natalie Hudson (JSS), Lembe Tiky (JSS), Esra Cuhadar (PEACE), Alpaslan Ozerdem (PEACE), Jennifer Sciubba (PDG), Mikhail A. Molchanov (POSTCOMM), Lawrence Rubin (REL), Surupa Gupta (SAWP), Rani D. Mullen (SAWP), Carla Martinez Machain (SSIP), Madeline M. Carr (STAIR), David Hornsby (STAIR), Alexander D. Barder (THEORY), Annick T. R. Wibben (WCIS), Cai Wilkinson (LGBTQA), Imad Mansour (GSCIS), Nanette Archer Svenson (GSCIS), and Amanda Murdie (OMC).

We would like to offer a special thank you to the members of ISA ‘HQ’ for their invaluable support over the past year. Mark Boyer, ISA’s Executive Director, provided wise and insightful counsel. Melissa Ballard, Kristy Belton, Liz Faussett-Fuhrman, Jennifer Fontanella, Giuliana Franchetti, Andrea Gerlak, Donalyn Maneggia, Kristin Marley, Adelina Mkami, Will Percival, Lembe Tiky, Alex Walker, and Jeanne White provided prompt and patient assistance on a daily basis.

We would like to acknowledge the generous support of the Department of Political Studies at Queen’s University, which enhanced our ability to craft the Program. Our Heads of Department, David Haglund and zsuzsa Csengő, were instrumental in securing this vital support.

In closing, we would like to thank our partners, families, co-authors, collaborators, and colleagues for allowing us to take time away to work on the Program. Like the Martello Tower in the above photo, they fortified us with the necessary strength to carry out our tasks.

Sincerely,

Sara Greco, Raynold Wonder Alorse, and Dr. J. Andrew Grant

Panel & Presentation Technology

In panel rooms and parlor suites, ISA will provide the following:

- LCD Projector
- Laptop Computer (Windows-based)
- Adobe PDF Reader and Microsoft Office software including PowerPoint

Do not disconnect the laptop computer. Presenters are expected to bring presentations on a flashdrive/USB that can be inserted into a Windows-based computer.

Presenters needing technical support in a meeting room or parlor suite: Dial the hotel operator from the meeting room house phone in either hotel and ask for audio visual assistance. Technicians from the hotel’s AV company will respond within minutes. Technicians are also in the meeting rooms and hallways between sessions. Note: ISA does not provide audio, internet, or overhead projectors in the meeting rooms except in designated media rooms.

Internet Options

Internet is NOT available in the meeting room spaces without prior arrangements between the hotel and individual panelists. To purchase guestroom internet, follow the instructions posted in your room. Each hotel has a few free internet stations available for guest use in the respective lobbies. Additionally, workstations for rent are available at the business centers at most of the hotels.

Cyber Café

The Cyber Café offers attendees the opportunity to briefly check their email and access the internet. This can be found in the Exhibit Hall, located in the Key Ballroom, Second Floor (available only during Exhibit hours).

Travel Grant Disbursement

Travel Grant awards will be distributed within 30 days after the convention is over, via the method you chose when you accepted your award using our online form. While onsite, recipients need to check-in with the travel grant desk to verify receipts if needed, and provide a valid form of I.D. to receive funds. Again, funds will not be distributed on site, but within 30 days after the convention. Please check-in at the ISA On-Site Registration area in the Hilton Baltimore during the times listed below. Failure to check-in during the times listed below will result in forfeiture of travel grant funds.

Brett Ashley Leeds

Professor of Political Science at Rice University

Brett Ashley Leeds’s research focuses on the design and effects of international agreements. Most of her work has concentrated on the area of security cooperation, and particularly military alliances. Her work has been published in numerous journals including American Journal of Political Science, Journal of Politics, International Organization, and International Studies Quarterly. Leeds has also collaborated to produce two datasets—the Alliance Treaty Obligations and Provisions (ATOP) dataset, and the Change in Source of Leader Support (CHISOLS) dataset. Both of these projects were supported by grants from the National Science Foundation of the United States. Leeds served as Vice President of ISA (2010-2011), section chair (SSIP, 2007-09), and on the following ISA committees: Diversity (chair), Long Range Planning (chair), Publications, and Karl Deutsch Award. She was associate editor of International Studies Quarterly (2005-08) and American Journal of Political Science (2010-2013). She has also served on the council of both the American Political Science Association and the Peace Science Society. For more information, please visit http://www.ruf.rice.edu/~leeds.

Selected Publications

- Fang, Songying, Jesse C. Johnson, and Brett Ashley Leeds. 2014. To Concede or To Resist? The Restraining Effect of Military Alliances. International Organization 68 (4): 775-809

Selected Honors

Leeds was the 2014 recipient of ISA’s Susan Northcutt Award, which recognizes a person who actively works towards recruiting and advancing women and other minorities in the profession, and the 2008 recipient of ISA’s Karl Deutsch Award, which recognizes a scholar under age 40 who is judged to have made, through a body of publications, the most significant contribution to the study of International Relations and Peace Research. She has been honored by Rice University with the 2007 Charles Duncan Award, which recognizes a faculty member for outstanding performance in both scholarship and teaching, and the 2006 Rice Graduate Student Association Faculty Teaching and Mentoring Award.

Kiddie Corp Childcare Services

Thanks go to Lynne Rienner Publishers for sponsoring the Kiddie Corp child care program at the convention.
Your membership with ISA helps to support the activities of the organization and the advancement of scholarly work in areas of international studies. ISA also offers a range of services and opportunities for members, including online access to journals and resources, professional networking at our events, and a variety of grants and UN opportunities.

Encyclopedia of International Studies

The Encyclopedia of International Studies, part of the ISA Compendium Project, is designed as a fundamental resource for International Studies. It comprises peer reviewed essays that assess the intellectual history of scholarship on topics of International Studies. Rigorous, comprehensive, and neutral in tone, the essays detail fruitful lines of research up to the current “state of the art,” and describe prior dead-ends. The Encyclopedia continues to grow with new and updated essays added frequently, and is available online for all ISA members. Please watch for upcoming announcements about a new publishing arrangement for the project.

Professional Resource Center (PRC)

The Professional Resource Center (PRC) is a dedicated area on our website, available to ISA members only, that hosts content to help with teaching, life in academia, job searches, and more!

Many of our active members and leaders have been hard at work. Here’s just some of the content we have available:

- ISA Job Board
- The ISA Presidents Series
- Syllabus & Simulation Archives
- Articles on Employment, Publishing, Teaching, and the Academy
- ISA Sapphire Series, Video & Audio Streaming
- Video Tutorials & Talks

We add new content regularly - so keep coming back to see what’s new! Of course, the PRC is designed to be a place where members can share their experience and insights with one another. If you have an idea for a post that you think other members would value, please get in touch. Contact us at prc@isanet.org - we’d love to hear from you!

Discounts!

And don’t forget - ISA offers discounts to ISA members for the ISA Annual Convention, as well as for region and international conferences, too!
Innovation in Collaboration

Interview Spot

We’re working with a student team to document participants’ experience at ISA 2017 in Baltimore, as well as craft additional resources for the ISA website and the Professional Resource Center. Stop by and say hello, see what we’re up to, and maybe even take a turn in front of the camera. It’s a great opportunity to share your thoughts about the Convention and the Association with the ISA community.

Tips for Being Camera-Ready

Here are a few hints from the pros on how to have a great interview even if you’ve never set foot in front of a camera:

- Integrate the Question - repeat the interview question to better help frame the response (and make for great clips!)
- Don’t Rush - speak slowly and clearly, giving yourself time to think about your comments
- Enthusiasm Translates! - talk with expression and animation (not monotone)
- Um? - avoid vocalized pauses such as "um" and "eh"
- Look at Me - don’t look at the camera but instead focus on the interviewer
- Plant your Feet - too much motion can be distracting, so plant your feet and smile!

DMD Collaboration

As part of a new initiative, ISA Headquarters began an exciting partnership with local University of Connecticut students in the summer of 2015. This Student Agency team (-ATION) is housed within the Digital Media and Design Department at UConn, and provides students with experiential learning and real-world challenges, while offering ISA innovative options for the digital age. We’re delighted with the partnership and are excited with all the multimedia projects that have come out of this team effort, including "Why I Go to ISA", the Presidents Series, "How to Design a Research Poster", the ISA Sapphire Series, and the Interview Shorts. Stay tuned for more!

Our Thanks!

Our thanks to all of those who participated in the student-led interviews and other filming/audio recording programs that took place at ISA 2016 in Atlanta, and who will be participating onsite in Baltimore for ISA 2017.
The ISA Sapphire Series

The Sapphire Series highlights key issues in the field and in international affairs. These talks bring together featured scholars and practitioners to discuss current world events, trends in academic research, and new challenges in teaching and learning.

Join us Friday, February 24th, in Holiday 5, Hilton Baltimore

As part of an innovative program to help generate active discussion in the discipline about systemic discrimination in academia, ISA is sponsoring the following ten panels at ISA 2017 as part of the "Challenging Oppression" series.

JOIN US IN BALTIMORE!

These panels will take place in Ruth, Floor One in the Hilton Baltimore. We hope to see you there!

WA30: Welcome to the ISA! Starting the Conversation
The panel will focus on creating an inclusive space, sharing information on ISA policies, programs and sections, and offering opportunities for mentoring and networking.

WB30: Queer/s in the Academy: Challenging "Don’t Ask Don’t Tell"
This session has two main aims: to provide a space for LGBTQIA scholars to share and discuss experiences in the academy, and to allow participants to work collectively to develop guidelines in relation to work in academia.

TA30: Confronting Systems of Power and Privilege in Higher Education at ISA and in the Classroom
This session will revolve around activities designed to involve participants in exercises and discussions that highlight situations of power and privilege endemic in our lives, higher education systems, classrooms and ISA.

TB30: The Academy as a Hostile Work Environment: Challenging the Chilly Climate for Women
This roundtable will include discussions about the chilly climate and how to survive and flourish under such conditions.

TC30: Everyday and Exceptional Discriminations in the Academy: Survival Strategies
This roundtable brings together colleagues from across career levels and geographical regions to explore practical responses to a range of forms of discrimination.

TD30: "The Master’s Tools Will Not Dismantle the Master’s House": How to Cope with Retaliation Co-optation and Resistance to Systemic Change
Participants in this session will reflect on the relevance of Sara Ahmed’s work to the challenges we face at ISA and the profession more generally.

FB30: Speaking Truth to Power: Challenging Toxic Masculinities Faculty Predators And Institutional Betrayal
This roundtable draws primarily on two bodies of literature: feminist scholarship on the relationship between masculinities and violence and research on institutional betrayal.

FC30: Neoliberalization and the Academy; Building Networks of Solidarity/ Resistance
This workshop will provide space to think more deeply about how the neoliberalization of Higher Ed influences our experience(s) in/ of the academy as a hostile environment - and, most importantly, how to collectively resist.

SA30: Sexisms and White Privilege in the International Studies Classroom
This session aims to bring scholar-educators in International Studies into conversation about the operations of racialized, gendered, and sexualised power in our teaching practices, from curriculum design to seminar discussions.

SB30: Plenary Session - Best Practices Recommendations and Strategies to Transform International Studies' Professional Culture(s)
This session will take stock of the special panel series - challenges identified, (preliminary) lessons learned and suggestions for the future - as we work to transform International Studies’ professional culture(s).

CONTINUING THE CONVERSATION AT ISA 2018

This is only the start of the conversation... stay tuned for more information about the Series at the ISA 2018 59th Annual Convention in San Francisco!
INNOVATIVE PANELS

Innovative Panels provide scholars with the ability to move beyond the traditional panel format - often involving the use of new technologies to broadcast to a greater audience or engage participants from distant locales. The following are this year’s ISA Innovative Panels:

- WC01: FTGS Town Hall
- TA04: The Syrian Civil War and the Spread of Terror: Simulation Plan and Practice 1/2
- TB04: The Syrian Civil War and the Spread of Terror: Simulation Assessment and Research 2/2
- TC04: Online Media Caucus - Live Tweets for (Political) Science
- TD04: ISA’s Got Talent: Sing Your Paper Away!
- FA04: Case Studies: Cases for Forgiveness, Change and Social Justice
- FB04: Scholar-Activists as Change-Makers: A town hall meeting on using research for justice

Interested in holding an Innovative Panel at ISA 2018?
The deadline for Innovative Panel proposals for the ISA 2018 Annual Convention is May 15, 2017.

WORKING GROUPS

Working Groups meet both before and during the conference and provide a forum for scholars to have in-depth discussions on substantive areas that extend across the complex boundaries of International Studies. Participation is by application. The following are this year’s ISA Working Groups:

- PWG01: Accelerating Change in Global Governance: Enhancing the Participation of Excluded and Marginalized Voices Through Information and Communication Technology
  Sponsored by the International Communication, Active Learning in International Affairs, Global Development, Human Rights, and International Organization Sections
- PWG02: South Asia in World Politics
  Sponsored by the South Asia in World Politics Section
- PWG03: The Global Rise of Populism
  Sponsored by the International Political Sociology Section

Interested in putting together a Working Group at ISA 2018?
The deadline for Working Group proposals for the ISA 2018 Annual Convention is June 15, 2017.

CAREER COURSES

Career Courses are half-day courses that offer participants an in-depth instruction on advanced topics such as methodology, teaching strategies, software, and more. Participation is by pre-registration only. The following are this year’s ISA Career Courses:

- CCW01: How to Successfully Use Participatory Methods in Formal Education
  Instructor: Kathryn Mangino
- CCW02: Case Writing and Case Teaching in International Relations
  Instructor: Volker Franke
- CCW03: Intelligence Analysis as Discovery of Evidence, Hypotheses, and Arguments: Connecting the Dots
  Instructors: Gheorghe Tecuci, Mihai Boicu, and Dorin Marcu

Interested in teaching a Career Course at ISA 2018?
The deadline for Career Course proposals for the ISA 2018 Annual Convention is June 1, 2017.
Early Career Scholar Opportunities

With thousands of scholars, practitioners and students attending our Annual Convention, it’s easy to miss out on opportunities to network and engage with colleagues. ISA is dedicated to helping early career scholars successfully maneuver within the discipline and so we’ve compiled a list of a few panels and events that we think you’ll really enjoy. Also, see the “Looking Ahead” section for other ways to increase your engagement at ISA 2018!

Engage with ISA

Early Career Scholar Lounge
Wednesday, February 22 - Saturday, February 25, 7:30 am - 6:00 pm (until 5pm on the 25th)
Ravens, Marriott Inner Harbor
This lounge is a drop-in space for early career scholars to prep, recharge and meet peers.

Early Career Scholar Town Hall (WD38)
Wednesday, February 22, 4:00 pm - 5:45 pm
Stadium 1, Marriott Inner Harbor
In an effort to improve the support available to early career scholars, ISA is hosting this session so that early career scholars can discuss the needs and challenges faced at the beginning stages of their career.

Early Career Scholar Reception
Thursday, February 23, 8:15 pm - 10:00 pm
Holiday 3, Hilton Baltimore
Join fellow early career scholars for some socializing and refreshments!

Highlights in Professional Development

Looking Ahead

The Junior Scholar Symposia (JSS) is designed to provide early career scholars the opportunity to present and discuss their research in an environment focused on professional development and networking. Proposals should be submitted through the main submission system and marked for JSS consideration. Submit a JSS paper for the 2018 ISA Annual Convention by June 1, 2017!

The Pay It Forward program is sponsored by ISA’s Committee on the Status of Women, where mid- to senior career mentors facilitate activities that address the processes of getting a job, publication, tenure, promotion, work-life balance, and navigating a gendered field. The application process is open to all graduate students and junior faculty. Check http://www.isanet.org/Conferences/Special-Convention-Programs/Pay-it-forward for more information as it becomes available.

Workshop Grant Program

Research and Workshop Grants are a benefit of ISA membership. ISA’s Research and Workshop Grant Program was created in 1992 to encourage collaborative research in all subfields of International Studies.

Our grants offer an excellent opportunity to foster collaboration among scholars from different parts of the global International Studies community. Grant recipients have individually or collaboratively published journal articles, books, book chapters and conference papers.

Connecting Scholars

Workshops are a great opportunity to advance projects, and work collaboratively with scholars from various regions, backgrounds and ranks. ISA offers 2 types of research workshop grants:

Venture Research Grants
Provide support to innovative and pioneering research. These grants allow for the pursuit of potentially transformative research areas, or to engage in preliminary work on untested or novel areas of research. Venture research grants are worth up to $25,000.

Catalytic Research Grants
Provide support to projects that apply new expertise or new approaches to established research topics, and as a result, are likely to catalyze rapid and innovative advances in that area. Catalytic research grants are worth up to $10,000.

Application & Award Process

- Call for proposals will be sent out in April 2017.
- Grant Proposals are due July 29, 2017 to the Committee Chair.
- Research and Workshop Committee members evaluate each proposal along lines of intellectual merit, participant qualifications, expected output, and budgetary considerations.
- Recipients are notified in mid-Fall 2017.
- All workshop organizers and participants must be members of ISA within two weeks of grant award date.
- Workshops may be held in conjunction with the ISA Annual Convention or at an alternate time or location.
- Any grant funds will be distributed by reimbursement after the event, subject to received receipts and committee-approved expenditure limits.

PROGRAM ASSISTANTS
Raynold Wonder Alorse & Sara Greco | Queen’s University
The James. N. Rosenau Post-Doctoral Fellowship is open to scholars in the social sciences and humanities who have received their Ph.D. within the past two years. The non-resident fellowship is granted for a duration of 12 months, and the fellow will spend 3/4 time pursuing their own research and 1/4 time conducting research on behalf of ISA.

2016-2017 Fellowship Recipient: Peter Dixon
Peter Dixon holds a Ph.D. in Sociology from the University of California, Berkeley, and his research addresses the politics of transitional justice and peacebuilding and is currently focused on reparations for victims in the Democratic Republic of Congo and Colombia. Dr. Dixon is collaborating with ISA HQ on a number of projects, including journal support and internal policy review.

2017-2018 Fellowship
The recipient of the 2017-2018 Rosenau Post-Doctoral Fellowship will be announced at the 2017 Governing Council meeting in Baltimore. Applications for the 2018-2019 fellowship will open in Fall 2017.
ISA offers awards to recognize outstanding scholarly contributions to the field of international studies. They recognize outstanding papers, books, achievement, and service. These awards each have different committees, nominating procedures and submission deadlines. Please note, ISA Awards are given based on merit and are not necessarily awarded annually.
