Tuesday, March 14

8:00 AM  Career Course: Engaging Academia with the Intelligence Community and Careers in Intelligence
11-Salon B, Le Centre Sheraton Montreal Hotel - This interactive workshop focuses on how those in academia can better connect and share their expertise with the Intelligence Community. It also addresses what the Intelligence Community is looking for when hiring and how best to engage with recruiters.

This Career Course is open to pre-registered, pre-paid attendees only and takes place on Tuesday, the day before panels begin. Please note: registrant contact information will be shared with the Career Course instructor ahead of the session.

12:00 PM Career Course: Playing Games with Political Violence
10-Salon A, Le Centre Sheraton Montreal Hotel - In terms of both classroom engagement and learning of skills and content, using simulations, games and exercises can be very useful tools to help students learn the material and how to apply theories to actual activity. While teaching political violence can be hard, using games and exercises can help students understand it in a way that just reading a book or article cannot. This workshop will introduce participants to a number of games and exercises that require little preparation and can be used effectively in class. We will play several of these games together, debrief them, and discuss the effectiveness of these techniques and ideas for further applications.

This Career Course is open to pre-registered, pre-paid attendees only and takes place on Tuesday, the day before panels begin. Please note: registrant contact information will be shared with the Career Course instructor ahead of the session.

1:00 PM Career Course: Storytelling as a Teaching Tool
5:00 PM 10-Salon A, Le Centre Sheraton Montreal Hotel - In this course, we introduce the participants to storytelling, its techniques, and its impacts on the cultural dimension. We show how it can be a useful teaching and learning tool that helps overcome the negative impacts of the abundance of information and the need to be up-to-date.

This Career Course is open to pre-registered, pre-paid attendees only and takes place on Tuesday, the day before panels begin. Please note: registrant contact information will be shared with the Career Course instructor ahead of the session.
